

God Healed My Daughter of a Neck Abscess

One day in 2006, while watching TV that showed all the signs of the last days of the world, I had a strong desire to live a long time with my 8-month-old son. I was reminded of heaven, about which I often talked with my brother. He would ask, "Can I live forever if I go to heaven?" I called my brother right away, and said, "I'm going to church beginning this week." This was the start of my life of faith.

So I first met God because of my child, and it was again through my two children that I realized the love of God—after experiencing His power.

In the evening of May 24, my son Yoonhyuk, 5, bumped into a marble table in the living room and got a deep cut on the right edge of his eyebrow. I was so heartbroken to see his soft skin bruised and swollen. But after Dr. Jaerock Lee prayed, his face healed up and the swelling went down as if nothing had happened.

Following this experience, my daughter Yoonsong, 3, suddenly had a fever and her temperature rose to almost 40 degrees C. As this went on for a week, her right cheek swelled up and she couldn't eat properly. I took her to a pediatrician. The doctor said it was the mumps, but the swelling grew bigger and spread to the neck behind her ear. Then the doctor recommended that I take her to a hospital. On July 3, through CT scans taken at the Asan Hospital in Seoul, we found out that Yoonsong had a neck abscess.

An inflammation in the lymphonodus around the neck had caused an abscess as big as 5 centimeters. The doctor said he didn't know when the abscess might burst, and added she should receive surgery

But once again, I had the assurance that my daughter would be healed if she received Dr. Jaerock Lee's prayer. So the following day, I had her receive Dr. Jaerock Lee's prayer. I thought, "My daughter's going to be all right!" Then I heaved a big sigh of relief and felt like I was walking on air.

When we came home, Yoonsong's temperature had already gone down, and much to our surprise, she began to play and eat well again. After that, she received prayer from Dr. Jaerock Lee two more times, and the abscess got smaller and smaller until it completely disappeared in late July. On September 9, in order to validate her healing, I took my daughter to the hospital for a medical examination, and we found out that her disease was completely healed. Hallelujah!

Yoonsong's testimony was presented at the 6th International Christian Medical Conference by WCDN which was held in October in Ukraine. I give thanksgiving and glory to God for our daughter's healing, which can now be used to testify about His amazing power!

WCDN (World Christian Doctors Network) was established in 2004 to testify about the living God through analysis of all the different healing cases by God's power from a medical point of view. Annual conferences have been held in Korea, India, the Philippines, Miami of USA, Norway, and Ukraine, and it is vigorously spreading the ministry of God's power through doctors' networks in the US, Russia, China, India, Indonesia, Peru etc.

Yoonsong Lee, 3, was completely healed of a 5x5cm neck abscess without surgery through Dr. Jaerock Lee's prayer.

Doctor's note

"The symptom was very serious. There was over a 90% chance of drainage and thus she could have gone septic very quickly, which is usually fatal. And since she didn't undergo surgery, she had to have at least been on a month's worth of medicine for any progress to be made, but she was simply healed by prayer. As a medical doctor, this is just unbelievable to me."

Healed of Uterus Tumor Even as an Enthusiastic Hindu

Sangita K.C. (Nepal Manmin Mission Center)

I run a clothes store in Kathmandu, Nepal. Living as a faithful Hindu since childhood, I naturally came to hate Christianity. When my Christian friends tried to evangelize to me, I got angry and even covered my ears so I didn't have to listen to them. But one day in June of this year, two strangers came into my store. With a bright smile on their faces, they told me about the Bible and Jesus Christ. I didn't want to listen to them so I politely asked them to leave the store.

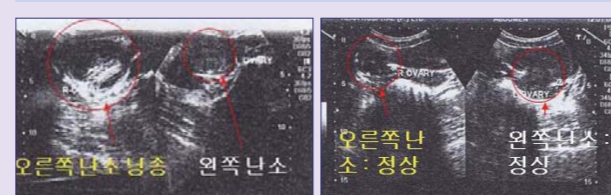

"Could you give us just ten minutes?" they asked. "All right, but do it quickly," I pleaded. But after they left, I had unresolved questions. So I called an acquaintance who was a member of the Nepal Manmin Center and asked her for some explanations.

A few days later, she visited my store and kindly explained to me about God the Creator and Jesus Christ in detail. I was attracted to the message and wanted to hear more. On the following day, she visited me again with Dr. Jaerock Lee's books, The Message of the Cross, Heaven I, and Hell. And while reading these books, I became even more curious about Christianity.

That very night, a man dressed in a white robe with long hair called to me in a dream. My first thought was that He was Jesus Christ. From that time on, I started to attend Nepal Manmin Mission Center. At that time I was suffering from an acute pain in the abdomen because of a tumor in the uterus. The doctor said that the tumor was big so I had to undergo surgery right away. Through the worship services broadcasted on GCN-Manmin TV, I listened to Dr. Jaerock Lee's messages and received his prayer for the sick. And when Pastor Grace Lee prayed for me with the handkerchief of God's power that Dr. Jaerock Lee had prayed on, the pain went away (Acts 19:11-12). On August 8, I took an examination at the hospital and was surprised by the result. The tumor had completely disappeared. I was so happy and overjoyed. The doctor was so astonished and asked, "How could such a thing happen?"

As a witness to this healing work, my husband accepted the Lord. My family no longer complains about my going to church even though they used to dislike it. I give all the thanks and glory to God for the healing.

Courage and Good Deeds of Manmin Members Practicing the Command: "Love Your Neighbor as Yourself"

Brother Myungsup Chang belonging to Moonsung Region of the Geumcheon Police Station joined our church on March 22, 2009. Deacon Soo Kim, who invited him to our church, says "He is a very faithful believer." Even though his work as a policeman is very demanding, Chang diligently attends worship services to live according to the word of God.

Broadcast on KBS (Korean Broadcasting System)/ last October 8, KBS News reported on the courageous deed of Myungsup Chang (right, wearing hospital gown) with the title "A Police Officer Runs into the Flame". Chang breathed in toxic gas while rescuing a fellow citizen, and was hospitalized for 3 days. He checks the condition of the old woman whom he saved, while she is treated at the same hospital.

Manmin members are reputed for their deep faith and faithfulness to their families. They are praised for their good deeds by many people in all corners of their neighborhood. The Yonhap News reported on October 7, "Officer Myungsup Chang (40), working at Geumcheon Police Station, succeeded in rescuing Mrs. Lee (90), who had collapsed in her room. After several attempts to enter into her room which was filled with gas and flame, he was able to bring her out safely in about 10 minutes." When Chang arrived at the scene, with a loud 'bang', the house shot up in smoke and flames." He couldn't see anything in the room filled with smoke, but he could hear someone moaning, so the only thing he could think about was saving this person's life. He felt a strong assurance that God would protect him, so he felt no fear. He rushed into the fire without any safety equipment, and rescued her without hesitation. Chang said "I am just thankful the woman is all right. I just did what I had to do as a policeman. Anyone in the same situation would have done the same thing." Elder Byungyoung Han (64), since the establishment of the Manmin Welfare Town in 1996, has been serving the elderly—who don't have any families to take care of them—as his own family. When he was young, Han had experienced bankruptcy while trying to expand his business and became penniless.

Before he was led to Manmin Central Church, he scavenged for food left in the trash cans. Through Dr. Jaerock Lee who gave him the opportunity to work as a bus driver for the church and offered him a place to live, he felt the love of the Lord and decided to live the rest of his life taking care of the poor and neglected. Elder Han says "If I have but one hope, it is to help my neighbors who are hungry and poor—just as I was in the past."

There are also members who turned their desperate lives into hopeful lives. One of them is Deacon Kwangsik Moon. With strong faith in the Scripture: "All things are possible to him who believes." Moon became a triple gold medalist, winning gold medals in the 70 kg-weight division in the snatch, dead lift, and combination power lift categories at the 29th National Sports Games for the Disabled held in Ilwon, Jeonnam Province, Korea last September. Seven years ago, Moon lost his sight from retinitis pigmentosa. But he says, "I believe God will recover my body perfectly in heaven. And even though at times I fall down in the fight against myself, rather than comparing myself with others, I will always fill my life with the thanksgiving and joy that God has given to me." He confessed that he gains strength whenever Dr. Jaerock Lee tells us to live in the truth through his messages. Moon is thankful because ever since he began attending our church, he began to see the letters in the big-print Bible which he couldn't see before, and his eyesight is not getting worse anymore. These members all confess that the messages of Dr. Jaerock Lee have been a compass for their lives. Many times, Dr. Jaerock Lee stresses in his message, "Not only should you be faithful in the church, but you should be faithful in the entire span of God's house, which includes your family, workplace, wherever you go. And you must love God first, and then love your neighbors as yourself, because this is God's will for us."

Members of the Hair Dressers' Mission and Deaconess Malae Lee, leader of the mission team, offer free haircuts to the elderly neighbors around the church once a month

Members of the Manmin Volunteers' Mission and their leader, Eun Lae Jung, push wheelchairs for the disabled after Sunday worship.

Deacon Kwangsik Moon becomes a triple gold medalist in the 70 kg-weight division in the snatch, dead lift, and combination power lift categories at the 29th National Sports Games for the Disabled held from September 21 to 25, 2009.

Heart

"Your attitude should be the same as that of Christ Jesus."
(Philippians 2:5)

Dear Sunday school children, I want all of you to go into New Jerusalem. I want you to live a happy and enjoyable life forever in the most beautiful and wonderful place in Heaven. But just because a person wants to enter New Jerusalem, it does not mean that he can go.

Do you know how big New Jerusalem is? The size of New Jerusalem is 58 times as big as South Korea. To be qualified to enter New Jerusalem, your heart must be filled with the goodness and beauty that's in the heart of Jesus Christ, the heart of our Lord. Then, how can we fill our hearts with the heart of the Lord?

First of all, you have to live a Christ-centered life.

What is a "Christ-centered life"? It is a life that obeys the will of the Lord Jesus Christ. Is there any of you who still give unkind looks to your brothers, sisters, or friends? Is there anyone of you who plays video games when you are supposed to be studying? If any of you is doing this, you should now obey the word of God. If you want to live by God's word, not just knowing it in your head, you must think about His word every day. Not only when you are attending worship service at church, you should always try to see, hear, speak, and act within the word of the Lord wherever you are.

For example, God wants you to read the Bible and listen to the word of God as opposed to exciting cartoons, movies, or singers on TV.

He also wants your lips to lift up beautiful prayers and sing beautiful praises; He wants them to only speak loving and kind words. He wants you to come to church, serve Him diligently, study hard and help your friends with your hands and feet so that you can store up great rewards in heaven. This is the way to live a Christ-centered life: to see, hear, think, and do the things that please the Lord. Of course this may not always be easy, but if you keep on trying to obey the word of God once, twice, three times, sooner or later, it becomes much easier. Then, you will realize, "Wow, so this is why it is so good to live by God's word!" When you realize this, you can joyfully obey the word of God even though nobody tells you to. Then, your heart will become filled with the Lord more and more, so the worldly things will not affect you anymore. Though you are still young, when you cast out untruths from your heart one by one, you can diligently run towards New Jerusalem.

Secondly, you should get into the habit of praying to God as if you were talking to Him.

Prayer is talking to the God you love, just as you joyfully talk to your mom, dad, and your close friends. Close friends are very open to each other, and they share their deepest, most honest feelings and thoughts to one another. When two friends talk, they don't even notice time going by. God the Father also wants to have conversations with you just like this, through your prayers. When you tell Him how thankful you are to Him for keeping you safe throughout day, and when you tell Him about the happy things you experienced, and the things you did well that day, He will also be happy. If you tell Him about the bad things that happened to you that day, and about the things you did wrong, He will forgive you and comfort you. If you pray, "God, help me cast away all the bad things—the dark things in my heart," He will give you the strength to do it. If you pray, "Give me the wisdom to study well, and make me a good worker for Your kingdom," then He will answer your prayer. But God is not pleased when you pray ostentatiously or just to be "showy." I hope all of you, the children of Manmin, will talk with God the Father every day and fill your hearts with the heart of the Lord.

Thirdly, you must remember that God can always see your heart, which other people cannot see with their eyes.

Because all of you long to enter New Jerusalem someday, you probably want to become good workers for God's kingdom. For instance, many of you dream of becoming pastors, or members of the praise team one day. But whatever you do, if you want to please God and reap greater rewards in Heaven, you need to do everything with a good heart. It's good to appear beautiful on the outside, but you must know that God looks at the inside of your heart first.

Suppose some children sing beautiful praises with great smiles on the altar. But when they're at home, they're totally different. They complain and fret, nagging their mom and dad, "Buy me the latest video game! Buy me new clothes!" And, during praise practice, they give their friends a hard time. Would God be pleased with these children's praises? Even though they "appear" beautiful in people's eyes, since the aroma of their hearts are not lifted up to God, this would rather sadden God's heart. On the contrary, let's say there are children whose singing skills may not be excellent, but they are obedient to their parents and teachers, and they make other children happy and comfortable during practice. When these children praise on the altar, the aroma of their hearts are beautiful, therefore they are lifted up to God. This case is not only limited to praises, but also in the area of prayer and one's studies. Whatever you do, you must do it with a love for God and a good heart.

In everything that you do, I hope all of you will do it with a good heart like our Lord Jesus Christ, so you can always bring joy to the Father God's heart.

The above message is a summary of the sermon preached during the Sunday Children's School Devotional Service on October 18, 2009. If you want to read this sermon in more detail, visit our website (www.manmin.org) and click on "Sermon".
